Assumptions Underlying the Process for Creating a Logic Model. If the goal of a model is to achieve a health goal, then that model is more likely to be effective if a logical process is used in which first the goal is selected, then the behaviors affecting that goal, then the determinants affecting those behaviors, and finally the interventions affecting those determinants.

Assumptions that Underlie Logic Models

Service-dominant (S-D) logic, in behavioral economics, is an alternative theoretical framework for explaining value creation, through exchange, among configurations of actors.It is a dominant logic.The underlying idea of S-D logic is that humans apply their competences to benefit others and reciprocally benefit from others' applied competences through service-for-service exchange.
